Fondazione Paolo Sorbini

per la scienza nell'alimentazione

RAZIONALE

L'aumento dell'aspettativa di vita rappresenta un indubbio progresso per l'umanità, ma non sempre una vita più duratura si traduce in una vita sana e di qualità. Molte persone vivono più a lungo ma subiscono un declino delle condizioni di salute: l'invecchiamento precoce, le malattie croniche e la fragilità fisica e mentale sono ancora frequenti e ostacolano il benessere individuale e collettivo. La ricerca scientifica di questi ultimi anni si è dunque focalizzata nello studiare e identificare i fattori che contribuiscono all'invecchiamento e allo sviluppo di patologie infiammatorie, croniche, metaboliche e neurodegenerative, per identificare soluzioni volte a migliorare la qualità di vita delle persone e ad aumentare gli anni di vita in salute.

Il 5° Congresso Internazionale “HEALTHY LIFESPAN - Positive nutrition, antiinflammation diet, physical activity and sport” si pone l'obiettivo di riunire i maggiori esperti nazionali e internazionali per discutere sugli ultimi aggiornamenti scientifici in merito ai temi chiave dell'Healthy Lifespan: nutrizione, integrazione, dieta, prevenzione patologie croniche, controllo dell'infiammazione e attività fisica.

Ampio spazio sarà dedicato a momenti di discussione tra gli esperti della faculty e interazioni dirette con la platea, per favorire il dibattito e lo scambio di conoscenze.
